MEET THE ADVERSARIES

Get to know the newest and most active threat actors tracked by CrowdStrike

TURBINE PANDA is an adversary believed to be operating out of the People's Republic of China. This group focuses primarily on intelligence collection against organizations in the aerospace sector, including those developing and operating aviation technology for both civilian and defense purposes. The majority of the targeted organizations are located in Western nations.

ROCKET KITTEN is an adversary group that is suspected to operate out of the Islamic Republic of Iran. Their primary targets are Israeli organizations adjacent to the defense and space sector, Western governments, and minorities as well as political opponents in and outside of Iran.

The BERSERK BEAR adversary group has strong ties to Moscow, Russia as well as technical and operational overlaps with other likely Russian state sponsored groups such as ENERGETIC BEAR, TEAM BEAR and VOODOO BEAR. The targeting profile of the group observed by CrowdStrike appears to align very closely with the likely collection priorities of Russian intelligence
